the more-than-human world beyond the

Ma'yan Tikvah

WHAT IS THIS HAGGADAH?

The Passover seder is one of the most repeated and reimagined rituals in Jewish practice. Hundreds if not thousands of Haggadot (plural of Haggadah) have been designed for the Passover seder.

At Ma'yan Tikvah we are also redesigning how Jews engage with Judaism by attuning ourselves to the natural world. This Hagaddah invites you to take the Ma'yan Tikvah approach to this year's Passover celebration.

This may be your complete seder, or you can bring your recordings and reflections with you to your more traditional Seder to share with others.

HOW TO USE THIS HAGGADAH

Take a walk in nature with your family or friends or by yourself and observe the natural world through the lens of the Passover seder. Find things to symbolize each step. You can record what you find in this Haggadah, take photos, draw pictures, or bring bits of nature home with you - being careful not to damage or destroy any plants or the landscape. You may also choose to record why you chose each item.

On each page you'll find examples of native pollinators. Most are not in bloom when we celebrate Passover, but perhaps you can still locate one or more of these species where you are.
